

SAVE THE DATE

Registration

Monday, 15 June 2026, 8h30-18h30, modular.
Solvay Building, 42 Avenue F.D. Roosevelt

The Solvay Impact Institute is pleased to invite you to its 1st Impact Summit—a full-day event bringing together academics and practitioners to explore the evolving landscape of impact.

The programme will feature three thematic tracks, two cross-functional sessions, and a closing keynote, offering a comprehensive perspective on key dimensions of impact, including:

- policy and regulatory frameworks
- measurement and evaluation methodologies
- emerging business and economic models
- valuation and pricing of impact
- effectiveness and long-term viability
- impact investing as a growing asset class

We are convinced that scaling impact requires the mobilisation of an entire ecosystem. This Summit is designed as a shared space to:

- exchange perspectives across disciplines and sectors
- bridge academic and professional languages
- compare approaches to measurement and evaluation
- connect research insights with real-world practice

Our ambition is to foster impact-driven thinking across organisations, models, and professions.

Founded at the intersection of management and applied economics, the Solvay Impact Institute acts as a catalyst between teaching, research, and practice. It aims to advance understanding of how organisations can generate credible, sustainable, and measurable societal impact—across the private, public, and nonprofit sectors.

*The closing keynote session will be open to a broader audience.